SUMMEERS HARDY, Deputy.

JUDGE Symes, ex. U. S. Congressman suicided at Denver

How about a Territorial Press Association, conducted on the same manner of those of the states.

THE U. S. needs more individualism and fewer partisan and creed tools.

MANY leading Divines are predicting the second coming of Christ in the near future.

THE Cherokee bonds have at last been sold. This will put 7,000,000 in circulation in the Cherokee Nation.

HALF the world is on the wrong bent in pursuit of happiness. They think it consists in having and getting, and in being served by others. It consists in giving and serving others.

THE President has appointed Major Kild of Indiana, Messrs. Daws of Massachusetts and McKinnon of Arkansas, a commission to treat with the Five Tribes.

A CRANK from Idaho is threatening President Cleveland. Some crank may kill our president imagining that he is solely responsible for the results of the silver question.

THE Pope never exercised supremacy in England before the reformation. He only exercised spiritual jurisdiction with the consent of the crown. Catholicism like everything else is now endeavoring to establish its strongest bulwarks in America.

You will do the greatest service to Ardmore and the Chickasaw Nation if you raise, not the roofs of the houses, but the souls of the people, for it is better that great souls should dwell in small houses than mean souls lurk in great houses. You do not have to own a legal title in fee simple to the lands of Ardmore or this Territory to engage in strengthening these edifices and upbuilding this kind of structure. You can do so by patronizing the ARDMOREITE.

You can buy a dollar white shirt for 50 cents at H. H. Russell's this week.

Have you seen Russell's line of overcoats they are daisies and very cheap.

THERE is a movement at New York to encourage marriage. Marriages have fallen off at a frightful rate in the last 25 years. Especially have they declined in the east. A marriage insurance company has been formed in Arkansas with headquarters at Hope. It is conducted something on the order of a life insurance company, parties marrying getting insurance money as in the case of death. Leading thinkers of the east claim that wealth detracts from marriage and prevents it. They prove their position by statistics. The poor girl is always looking out for a home and is ready to marry any one who can furnish her with one. The American rich girl always purchases a foreign husband with a title of some kind. Where she is exceedingly wealthy she is not particular, according to the New York News, about marriage at all. It is estimated that if marriage continues to decrease as it has it will finally stop altogether. Taken in connection with the decrease of marriages is the alarming increase of divorces. The Arkansas movement claims to have established an institution which will increase marriage among the poor. It used to be common for a man and woman to marry when they had money to get out a license, if they could stand the preacher off. They enjoyed fighting life's battles together, and would in after years boast of this conflict with poverty.

THE CITY.

Judge O. Love, of Marietta, is the city.

Engraving of all kinds done at T. H. Parkers, the jeweler. t-f

Joe Phillips, chief clerk, came up from Gainesville this morning.

Cotton took and upward tendency to-day, advancing about seven points

Russell Williams went to Davis on Sunday morning's train.

Joe Cunningham went to Davis Sunday morning.

The churches were all well attended last evening.

Sinkiller Griffin, is stirring up things generally within the ranks of the colored population.

Mr. S. A. Brown, formerly a citizen of Ardmore, but now of Norman, O. T., is in town attending court.

Messrs. Pena Arcland and Sam McKuzie, two prominent citizens of Lebanon are in the city on legal business.

Ben Stuart a prominent Chickasaw citizen and cattleman is in attendance upon the U. S. Court.

Judge Hardy continues to improve slowly but is yet far from being his former self.

The old Advertiser quarters are being renovated and fitted up preparatory to the opening of a restaurant.

Judge Scott has returned from his trip of recreation and is again presiding with his usual dignity over the Commissioners Court.

Mr. J. S. Dillingham and Dick Choate, good friends of the ARDMOREITE, as all Texans are, called on us yesterday.

Jack frost has got in his work for the last two nights and now the green foliage has taken on a somber hue.

G. W. Holder came up from his farm yesterday. He reports everything in his locality as moving along satisfactorily. Cotton nearly all picked.

Judge Chas. B. Stuart resumed court this forenoon with a full attendance of litigants. The civil docket was taken up and will be pushed to a finish.

Col. Cravens a noted lawyer of Fort Smith, Ark. is in the city.

Dr. W. H. Ursery, of Lebanon was in the city yesterday.

John Criber, a prominent ranchman is in town.

Oliver Haley of the Lindsay House bar is in town with quarters at the city Boarding house.

O. B. Kone, of Wynnewood, is in town telling the court what he knows that it desires to know.

Miss Daisy LaFlore of Limestone Gap, Choctaw Nation is in the city visiting her sister Mrs. Geo. H. Webb.

James Barnett proprietor of the Barnett house, Marietta, was up yesterday.

Hon. C. C. Potter, of Gainesville is attending court. He has a number of important cases on the civil docket.

Mrs. F. Fitch and Miss Murphy of Gainesville, are in the city, guests of the city boarding house.

The streets presented a lively appearance to-day with cotton in the ascendancy.

While attending court go to the Cottage Home Hotel for a square meal.

S. S. Evans, Jerry Washington and Judge Overton Love, all prominent residents of Marietta, are in town attending court.

The Iron Store will sell you dress goods, from 25cts up per yard and will furnish the latest style of trimmings free of charge.

R. W. Fleming one of Ardmore's leading carpenters and contractors, will make and have lettered a large sign board for the ARDMOREITE.

The rickety old stairway leading up to this office has been replaced by one safe and substantial. Doubt be afraid to come to see us.

The Central hotel is the place to get your dinner today. Turkey and Cranberry sauce.

In the U. S. court the day was taken up in making and arguing motions. Regular proceedings will commence to-morrow.

W. M. Savage, a leading business man of Lebanon, is in the city making his headquarters around the court house.

The Ardmoreite has among its crew a vocalist whose abilities we do not wish to be discovered, lest he should be induced to take up with some troupe of singers.

Sinkiller Griffin, our brother in black, is stirring up the natives in Ardmore. Over 50 come forward for prayer last night. There was not standing room in the house.

Jeff Gilstrap was called upon to-day to answer to the charge of hog theft. The evidence being insufficient to make out a case the defendant was discharged.

Commissioner Thompson, for the Ardmore court at Parcell and Pauls Valley came down Saturday evening, remaining over Sunday the guest of friends.

Yesterday morning three young gentlemen were out on Main street with their wheels and were moving along smoothly, until two of them came in collision. Aside from two falls no injuries were sustained.

Peter O. Berge had a hearing before commissioner Scott today upon a charge of disposing of mortgaged property. He was discharged. The defendant bails from the vicinity of Wynnewood.

A prominent merchant of this city, who for twenty years has known D. M. Lawrence, mention of whose failure at Wynnewood appears elsewhere, remarked very significantly this morning that his collapse demonstrated most forcibly to his mind the fallacy of the credit system so largely pursued in this country. Mr. Lawrence had weathered the storms for nearly a quarter of a century successfully but misfortune overtook him in his declining years.

The court, attorneys and jurors all present a much more pleasing appearance this morning, due to much needed recreation during the recess of the last few days.

The case against Arnold alias Johnson charged with fraud, is in progress before commissioner Scott. This is the man claiming to have been the representative of Casey & Swasey of Fort Worth, by means of which he did a land office business in the territory.

G. H. Smith, of Washita, accidentally shot his father in the arm yesterday with a winchester. The wound is painful but not necessarily requiring amputation of the wounded member.

Mamma said an Ardmore small boy, is it any harm to say cofferdam? No my son. It is no more harm than to say mill dam. Why do you ask such silly questions?

Cause I saw an old old cow down in front of the Chiefain office and I thought she would coffer-dam old head off.

Deputy Marshal W. B. Freeman, arrested near Burneyville two men Sunday giving their names as Ward and Eastman, having in their possession nine quarts of the forbidden juice and two ugly revolvers. They plead guilty before commissioner Scott and were held in bonds of $100 and $300 respectively, which they gave.

The beautiful and accomplished Miss Cora Ladd, of the Central hotel, accompanied by Mrs. Kitty Kimbrough and James M. Boatright, called at the ARDMOREITE Sunday, and brought with them a most elegant dinner. The dinner was enjoyed heartily by the ARDMOREITE force. This hotel is becoming quite popular with the public.

Capt. John L. Galt who is considered authority on cotton receipts, present and prospective, gives the report the following estimates on this season in Ardmore: Receipts from wagons to date 14,000 bales which he calculates about two thirds of the crop. On this basis there will be 21,000 bales marketed during the year which will be a little above the receipts of last year.

The Baptist people have struck on a new scheme for contributions. It is plain and simple and doubtless will prove effectual. Here it is; several printed envelopes with directions like a doctors prescription, with blanks for name of contributors the amount contributed enclosed and provisions for the publication periodically of names and amounts. The vital part of the directions are "return promptly."

D. M. Lawrence & Co. of Wynnewood filed papers of assignment to-day. J. M. Buchanan is named assignee. Creditors to the amount of $17194.00 are preferred while others whose claims aggregate $16,275 are included in a general way. The assets are given as follows: Stock of goods $12,000, notes and accounts $25,000 and store house no value placed. This firm did a very extensive business and was considered perfectly solvent. Failing to collect caused the collapse.

Judge Stewart handed down his decision this morning in the case of Williams and Christie the two condemned Cherokees who sought relief through the United States court by habeas corpus proceedings. He held that the men were illegally indicted and as a natural consequence illegally tried, convicted and condemned to death and should be restored their liberties. A stay of execution was ordered pending appeal, notice of which was given by Col. Cravens representing the Cherokee nation. The cases were ordered docketed and time given in which to file bill of exceptions. The decision was voluminous citing many authorities and interpreting the Cherokee laws under which these men were indicted. It was pronounced by all as an able document sound in conclusion and just in sentiment.

One advantage Ardmore possesses over all other places in the territory is its banking institution, the City National Bank of Ardmore. The gentlemen of this bank are safe and reliable and save many dollars to Ardmore and its tributaries, through its just and reasonable rates. It is safe and reliable and of great importance in carrying on the extensive commerce of Ardmore. See its advertisement in another column. If you have anything of a banking nature to do it might be of interest to you to become acquainted with some of its managers.

Go to Harshaw's for your meals only 25 cents. t-f

Harshaw sets the best table for the least money of any man in town. t-f

The ARDMOREITE intends to give the people of Ardmore a first class paper in every shape in the near future.

We call the special attention of the public to our job office. We are prepared to do job work at as low figures, and as nicely as any office in town.

The Central Hotel always has a rush but is ever ready to serve its customers.

Ladd of the central knows how to please his guests and as a consequence his tables are always crowded.

The best line of dress goods ever shown will be sold from 25cts up and furnished with the latest style of trimmings free of charge at the Iron Store. 1w

C. B. Ladd's new cook has returned and the rush to the Central hotel is something wonderful to behold. 2t

Call at W. B. Frame's, at the city drug store for Dr. Stegall's Sioux Indian Tonic and Indian Oil during his absence. t-f

O. S. Baily can be found at Hall & Ryan's drug store, South Main street. Mr. Baily is city sanitarian. It may prove cheaper to employ Mr. Baily than a doctor. n3 t

Go to the Cottage Home Hotel for a good square meal. tf.

J. H. Harshaw, the deservedly popular restauranter, comes out in an advertisement this morning. Those who seek your trade will often be found treating you more courteous than those who do not.

By mistake of the Western Union Publishing Company, we have a cast up for a page seven column paper. This page is filled with choice reading matter and illustrated. We can use it only as a supplement to the ARDMOREITE. We will sell the opposite page to it for cost of labor to any Ardmore firm and run it as a supplement, the firm using it for an advertisement. The page may be seen at this office.

See our business manager or call at the office for terms for page advertisement.

Consult the city sanitarian, O. S. Baily, at Hall & Ryan's drug store South Main street, in regard to any work in his line you may need. tf

FROM OVER THE WORLD.

A General Summary of News Condensed and Clipped From Our Daily Exchanges.

A horrible explosion of dynamite occurred in Madrid yesterday. Over five hundred lives were lost. Mangled bodies filled the air and covered the waters. Ships tottered and craft's were buried in the ocean and people driven mad.

In financial circles the enthusiastic look for a revival and restoration of confidence at once. The more conservative think that the change back will come gradually. The currency question is reported out of the way as a disturbing factor.

Six men were killed at Reno Cal. in a railroad accident.

Attacks continue to be made on Gladstone.

The saloons are re-opened in Waco.

There was a wreck on the Illinois Central in which two unfortunate men, called by some people tramps, were killed while stealing a ride. The fireman was killed. It occurred at Cairo, Ill. Misplaced switch the cause.

A tragedy in Dallas, Charlie Rodgers kills his fiancée and then himself. She would not marry him.

C. P. Huntington has sold the Cheapeake and Southwestern Ohio railroad to the Louisville and Nashville and Illinois Central companies for $6,000,000.

LORDS OF CREATION.

A man must have a very bad opinion of himself not to be willing to appear what he really is.

He, feeling his way—An honorable man should marry only for love. She—Certainly; oh, certainly—if he can afford it.

Rider Haggard is said to have trained a rat so that the animal has become companionable, intelligent and affectionate.

Edward Perry and Robert McLehlan, both of San Jose, Cal., recently waltzed, it is claimed, for nineteen consecutive hours. Swearing in conversation indicates a perpetual distrust of a person's own reputation; and is acknowledgement that he thinks his bare word not worthy of credit.

Horses have different ways of sleeping. Some lie down, some sleep standing, others compromise on partly lying down. One is told of who sits down on his haunches like a circus trick pony.

Leo Tolstol, the Russian novelist, usually wears the costume of a peasant. When not engaged in writing he makes boots; but his boot-making is said not to be as successful as his book-making.

A bridegroom fainted at the altar while the marriage ceremony was being performed, in Salem, Mass., recently. He was finally restored to consciousness, and the clergyman succeeded in completing the tying of the knot without further interruption.

"You quite devoted yourself to that frightful looking Van Stiek on the train the other day, Edith. What on earth made you do that?" "Well, it was absolutely necessary to pay some attention to him. You don't suppose I wanted people to think he was my husband!"

Ebenezer Burgess Ball, of Washington, who claims to be the nearest living relative to George Washington, and who looks like the latter's portrait, has had his claims in that respect confirmed by the Sons of the American Revolution. He keeps a little cigar store in the rotunda of the pension office.

TIMELY TOPICS.

The Rocky mountain ranges are 300 miles wide.

American soldiers are the best marksmen in the world.

The population of Italy is 370 per square mile, of Germany 240, of France 190.
